MESSAGE FROM THE CHIEF

I am pleased to present the Miami Police Department's (MPD) 2020 Annual Report. It was an unprecedented year for the world.

In March, our agency was faced with the threat of the coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic. MPD personnel worked diligently within the workforce to implement protocols to contain the spread of the virus. With procedures changing frequently in line with the Center for Disease Control (CDC) recommendations, our priority was to maintain the health of our personnel as well as that of the community. Daily adjustments pertaining to temporary shutdowns, mask mandates, quarantines, enforcing stay-at-home orders, transitioning to virtual education and meetings, and a host of other challenges became the standard.

In addition to the pandemic, civil unrest and worldwide protests erupted after the death of George Floyd in May. Miami experienced several months of daily protests and demonstrations, some of which proved volatile. For the most part, protesters expressed themselves peacefully. However, there were a few outliers who chose to incite violence and cause damage to property, including several police vehicles. We were able to address these instances appropriately and successfully, without endangering lives. During this tumultuous time, we received many letters from people nationwide and around the world expressing their thanks for the efforts of our workforce. Community members took note of the professionalism and empathy with which the men and women of the MPD addressed these challenges.

I am in awe of MPD personnel who performed their law enforcement duties with courage and dignity. Their unwavering dedication in the face of adversity brought honor to the badge they carried. I watched them step up to the task and ensure that services to our residents and visitors were not diminished. This is evidenced by the fact that in spite of the raging pandemic, police officers called out sick less often in 2020 than in the preceding year. Additionally, officers used the most amount of labor hours working outside of their regular duty assignments. Officers showed up and consistently endeavored to accomplish goals for the greater good of the department. Officers collectively worked hundreds of thousands of hours on temporary details to support responses to both the pandemic and civil unrest. This defines my ideal of what MPD represents - service, diligence, and commitment to excellence.

I am proud of what MPD accomplished in 2020, a year which tested everyone's limits. It was a unique year for law enforcement, but we met the year's challenges with flexibility and courage. I recognize each employee, sworn and civilian, for their contribution to the team's effort. I have full faith that our agency's employees will continue to work just as hard to make 2021 as successful as well.

Sincerely,

Jorge R. Colina
Chief of Police

Officer Kenia Fallat

In October of 2010, Officer Kenia Fallat, formerly known as Officer Reyes, was named “Mujer Vanidades” by Vanidades Magazine and featured in their publication for her outstanding work as one of MPD’s Public Information Officers.

Officer Fallat joined the department in 2004 and after four years in street level patrol, she was asked to be part of the Public Information Office. After 12 years in the same office, she continues to exemplify the outstanding work she possessed back then.

COVID-19

By Officer Michelle Johnakin

While preparing for the Ultra Music Festival, one of the largest events our city hosts annually, the world was faced with a pandemic. The deadly virus called coronavirus (Covid-19) had an enormous impact on our nation's health and economy. The virus caused the entire nation to come to a halt as shutdowns were put into place and curfews were implemented. As days turned into weeks and weeks into months, the departments was thrown obstacles, but it did not stop us from fulfilling our essential worker duties.

To combat the spread of the virus, checkpoints were established which consisted of temperature checks and wrist band issuance. The department received donations for masks, face shields, and other protective gear to combat the spread of Covid-19. On April 8, 2020, it became mandatory to wear a mask in the City of Miami.

In spite of the difference the department faced with this deadly virus among us, we remained focused on the public safety mission, and our delivery of services was never compromised.

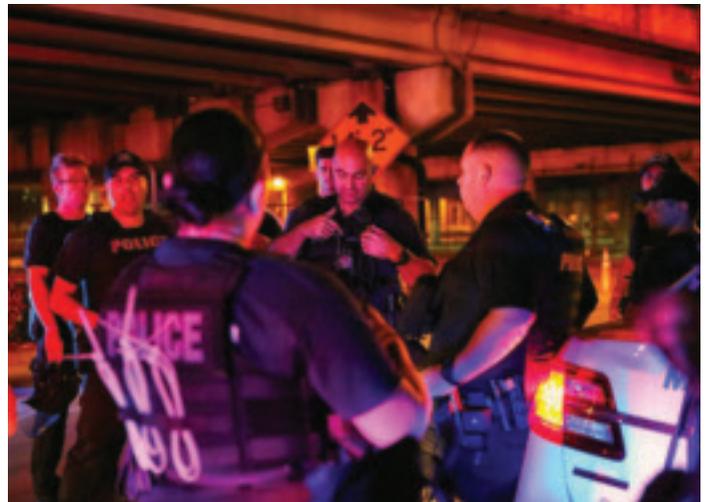

GEORGE FLOYD PROTESTS

By Sergeant Shanetta Green

During the Covid-19 pandemic, an incident occurred in Minneapolis, Minnesota, which caused an uproar of protests and civil unrest across the country. On May 25, 2020, George Floyd, who was 46 at the time, was arrested by Minneapolis police officers. While in police custody and restrained face down on the ground, Officer Derek Chauvin knelt on the neck of George Floyd for over 9 minutes. Bystanders recorded the incident, and despite their pleas to get off Mr. Floyd's neck and that he was no longer breathing, Officer Chauvin remained in the same position until the paramedics arrived. Mr. Floyd ultimately died that day. The video of the last minutes of his life quickly circulated and initiated protests of millions around the country to bring awareness to police brutality and a public outcry for police accountability and reform.

On Saturday May 30, 2020, peaceful protests within the City of Miami escalated and became violent. Businesses were looted, walls and vehicles spray-painted, windows smashed, and Miami Police vehicles set on fire. The Miami Police Department stood its ground with a united show of force. Peaceful protestors were allowed to protest, while agitators or rioters who continued to damage property or bring harm to others were taken into custody.

DOCUMENTARY OF RETIRED CHIEF CLARENCE DICKSON

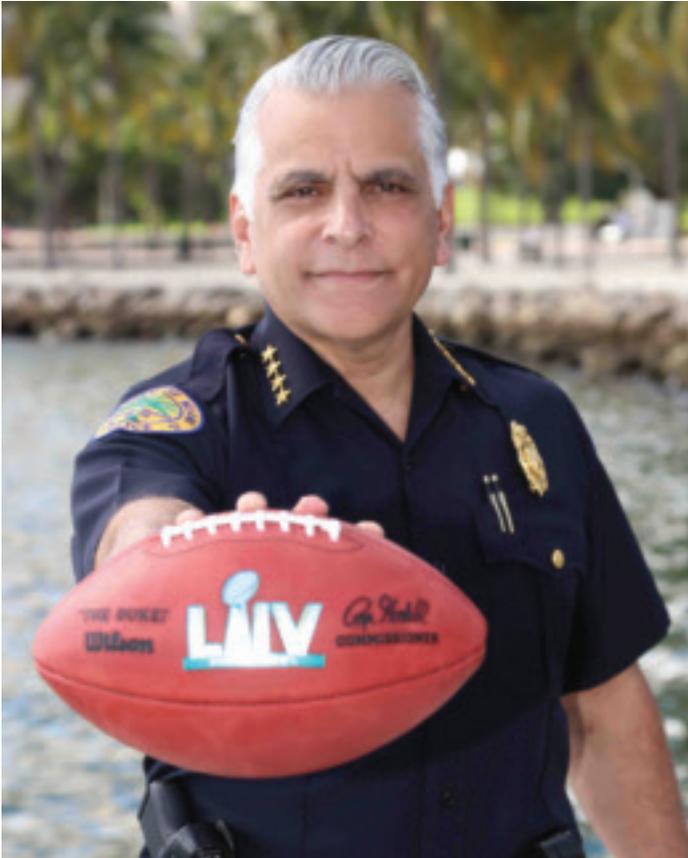

When Clarence Dickson joined the City of Miami Police Department in 1960, he was a member of the first integrated police academy in departmental history and a veteran Air Force man. He was the first black man who ever completed the police academy. Twenty-five years later, in January 1985, he became the City of Miami's first black police chief. Following 28 years of service to the South Florida community, in July 1988 he retired from his post as the department's Top Cop. Today, he continues to visit the Miami Police Department and shares his wealth of knowledge with the younger generations. On January 24, 2020 we paid tribute to his life via a film directed and composed by Cesar Nuñez, our staff videographer.

SUPER BOWL LIV

By Sergeant Jose Ramirez

Super Bowl LIV 2020 was played on February 2, 2020, at Hard Rock Stadium. Based on the high magnitude of the sporting event which brought significant tourism and visitors to South Florida, the City of Miami hosted an array of musical, cultural, and private events throughout the area to celebrate the Super Bowl. In addition, the JW Marriott, JW Marquis, Miami Marriott, Hyatt JLK, and Miami Hilton luxury hotels in Downtown Miami accommodated the stay for both visiting teams, their families, NFL owners and VIP's, referees, and media personnel.

One of the major events celebrating the Super Bowl was "Bowl LIVE", which took place at Bayfront Park in Downtown Miami. The event was a fully integrated, interactive, and immersive experience for fans to enjoy leading up to the game on Super Bowl Sunday. The seven-day event took place from Saturday, January 25, 2020 to Saturday, February 1, 2020 and featured "Tailgate Town", culinary demos, an "Environmental Village", fan activities, musical acts, dance performances, and water/pyrotechnic shows.

The American Airlines Arena hosted a concert series with renowned artist/bands: DJ Khaled; Meek Mill; Maroon Five with Dan and Shay; and Guns and Roses with Snoop Dogg. Other events in the nearby area included the Super Week at Island Gardens which hosted American pop singer Lady Gaga, along with other pop/hip hop music, social media "A" listers and other VIP's. The Adrienne Arsht Center hosted the National Football League (NFL) Honors annual awards, which presents honors and recognitions to indicated players and coaches in the league. Additionally, other musical and private events occurred throughout the Wynwood, Downtown and Brickell areas, all celebrating the Super Bowl.

In preparation for the venue's overall response, the City of Miami Police Department successfully provided police officer presence throughout the entire area and for all major venues/hotel stays, with 24 hour a day presence, securing perimeters, park/event set ups, traffic ingress-egress modifications, high visibility, security overwatch, bicycle patrol, undercover and personnel working in conjunction with government agencies such as the FBI and FAA.

The SPMU team is most proud, however, of its work with the City of Miami's 2020 Summer Jobs Connect Program, which it oversaw in conjunction with the City of Miami's Office of Grants Administration and the Overtown Youth Center. Summer Jobs Connect offers paid work experiences for local youth participants from economically disadvantaged backgrounds. When the program was at risk of being eliminated for the year due to the COVID-19 pandemic, SPMU proposed making the program a remote work experience. The Unit's 5 members built a custom survey system, provisioned virtual phone numbers through the new Cisco Jabber platform and trained approximately 200 youth participants and supervisors to conduct telephone surveys of residents. The youth participants were able to continue earning an income for their families while working safely at the height of the COVID-19 pandemic. The youth participants ultimately called more than 100,000 residents over
